

News story: Aviation minister meets airlines and allergy sufferers to improve flying for those with nut allergies

Government wants to see improved clarity and consistency in how the sector deals with allergies.