

News story: Flood risk continues with further rain expected this weekend

The Environment Agency warns that flood risk continues with the impacts of heavy rain continuing to be felt across England.