

News story: Letter from the Environment Secretary to the food and drink industry

The Environment Secretary, George Eustice, has written an open letter to the food and drink industry