

News story: New members appointed to the Council for Science and Technology

Two new members have been appointed to the Prime Minister's Council for Science and Technology.