

News story: Partner in international quantum research: apply for funding

Organisations can apply for a share of £1 million to develop AI and quantum technologies in international partnerships.