

News story: Securing the UK's electricity supply

The Government is taking action to ensure the UK's long-term energy security as it builds a system of energy infrastructure fit for the 21st century.