

News story: The Council for Science and Technology publishes advice on opportunities to strengthen the UK's sovereign space capabilities

Advice from Council for Science and Technology (CST) on the prioritisation of investment in the capabilities laid out in the National Space Strategy is published.