

News story: Universities urged to boost support for armed forces

Two Government Ministers have written to universities calling on them to step up provisions for the forces community and sign up to the Armed Forces Covenant.