

Notice: English Whisky/English Whiskey: opportunity to oppose an application to register those names as a geographical indication

The names “English Whisky” and “English Whiskey” are being considered for protection as a geographical indication under the UK government’s Spirit Drinks Geographical Indications Scheme. Find out more about the application and how to oppose it.