

Officer for journalist safety now in every UK police force to promote media freedom

Journalists now have a dedicated point of contact in every police force in the UK to get support when faced with abuse and threats of violence