

Ofsted announces sector engagement programme to ready education providers for November start to inspections

Ofsted has today announced a full programme of sector engagement to be launched in September when the final set of education inspection reforms are published.