

Ofsted outlines plans to tackle sharp growth in unregistered children's homes

Ofsted has today outlined a change in its approach to tackling unregistered children's homes, designed to stop unsafe and unlawful placements and to address issues of sufficiency in the children's social care system.