

Ofsted sets out proposals for fairer education inspections and new, more detailed report cards

Ofsted is consulting on a new approach to inspecting education providers and the introduction of report cards.