

Opening up strategic partnership offers across the housing sector

Homes England are excited to launch a new round of strategic partnerships to benefit new partners from registered providers, local authorities, institutional investors and for-profit providers.