

Overseas workers conned out of thousands by fake care recruiter which never filed a single visa application

London company shut down in the public interest following an Insolvency
Service investigation