

Parents to save thousands in government cost of living support

Working parents set to save £7,500 a year as government will cover 30 hours of childcare next month, setting kids up to achieve more in school.