

Patient and family experiences inform antidepressant safety information review

An Expert Working Group has completed a review into how the potential risks associated with antidepressant medicines are communicated to patients