

People across UK to benefit from easier access to local services as councils get digital boost

A new government unit, GDS Local, has launched to help councils across the UK make everyday services – from managing council tax to accessing local support – easier, faster, and more accessible for residents.