

PM and Digital Secretary welcome broadband jobs boom

Boris Johnson and Oliver Dowden met with the biggest names in broadband today, praising the industry for creating more than 22,000 jobs over the last year.