

PM puts new offer on the table to businesses in first talks with industry groups: 24 July 2026

The Prime Minister has held his first calls with business representative organisations where he set out a new offer from government to Britain's job creators.