

Power to patient as government sets out plan to cut waiting lists

Patients will be offered a wider choice of providers and the process of booking treatments and appointments will be made as smooth as possible