

Powering the farms of the future with £50 million tech investment

A dozen breakthrough technologies are set to reach farms faster, boosting productivity and sustainability.