

Press release: Businesses to pay rates bills that better reflect current property values

Business rates payers in England will have bills that more accurately reflect current property values under new legislation.