

Press release: EA Chief Executive: Natural Flood Management essential in battle against climate change

Sir James Bevan outlined his vision for natural flood management as the Environment Agency published a new report on the £15 million NFM programme.