

Press release: Emergency review of salmon numbers to protect stocks in the Severn estuary

The Environment Agency is carrying out a review of new data which shows a significant reduction in salmon stock levels in the Severn Estuary.