

Press release: Environment Agency staff continue 24/7 operational flooding response to protect people and property

Environment Agency teams continue to work around the clock to protect people and properties from severe flooding, with further floods expected across parts of the country today and possibly into the weekend.