

Press release: Government sets out plans to clean up the UK's supply chains to help protect forests

Businesses, producers and governments from around the world are asked to help shape new measures and respond to the consultation, helping to tackle illegal deforestation associated with UK supply chains.