

Press release: H5N8 strain avian influenza confirmed on farm in North Yorkshire

The risk to public health from the virus is very low and this strain of avian influenza does not pose a food safety risk