

Press release: Mel Stride: British productions deserve our support

The UK's film and TV industry pays a festive thanks for the nation's support as the latest season of Luther hits our screens today (January 1).