

Press release: More than 150,000 people benefit from online justice in 2018

More than 150,000 people used online justice services in the past 12 months taking the total number to over 300,000 in the past four years.