

Press release: New UK aid funding for smart crops on display in Chelsea Flower Show

International Development Secretary announces new UK aid investment in vital research on bio-fortification to help tackle malnutrition and end global hunger.