

Press release: New UK support to help improve tax systems in developing countries

The development assistance will help tackle tax evasion and avoidance, build effective tax systems to fund public services and provide British experts.