

Press release: Over £30m for new equipment to boost sustainable food production

£31 million has been made available for equipment and technology to boost farm productivity, increase environmental sustainability and help slurry management.