

Press release: Plans to strengthen protections for Britain's most valuable treasures at risk of export

The plans would strengthen the export deferral rules and give UK museums and buyers a greater opportunity to keep important artworks and artefacts in the country