

Press release: Property bosses to pay thousands after abusing company accounts

A pair of married property directors have been ordered by the courts to pay back £182,000 having abused the company's bank account.