

Press release: Protecting the marine environment is vital say public

Plastic pollution and marine litter seen as the biggest threat, and marine environment considered as precious resource that should be protected