

Press release: UK aid protecting women from trafficking in Burma – and helping them into jobs

International Development Secretary calls for most vulnerable to be given a say in Burma's future after shifting the work of UK aid to help disadvantaged and conflict-affected people.