

Press release: Unique tear shaped tray from 17th century Southern India at risk of export

A mysterious and uniquely designed tray from the historic city of Bidar in South India is at risk of being exported from the UK unless a buyer can be found.