

Public libraries set to benefit from cash boost to support National Year of Reading

The government has announced up to £150,000 cash boost for public libraries to support the National Year of Reading