

Putin's regime will hear the chorus of global opposition to its actions

The Prime Minister is in Indonesia today (Tuesday) for the first meeting of the G20 in the group's 15-year history held in the shadow of a major European war instigated by one of its members.