

Rapist has sentence increased after assaulting two women

A rapist who attacked two women in the same night has had his sentence extended following the Solicitor General's intervention.