

Rapist who threatened woman has sentence increased

A rapist who broke into a woman's home and tried to get her to drop case against him has his sentence increased after the Solicitor General intervened