

Rededication services held for two casualties of the Somme

The graves of two soldiers killed on the Somme have been identified and rededicated in northern France