

Register with the environmental regulator: extended producer responsibility for packaging

If you're obligated under extended producer responsibility (EPR) for packaging, you must register your organisation with the environmental regulator and pay a registration fee.