

Regulator disqualifies Nottingham charity trustee over inflammatory sermon

The Charity Commission has concluded its compliance case into Nottingham Islam Information Point following significant regulatory intervention – including issuing an Official Warning and imposing a 3-year disqualification.