

Regulator to investigate Islamic charity after concerns raised over its financial controls

The Charity Commission is escalating its engagement with the Hussaini Charitable Trust to a statutory inquiry over ongoing concerns about the charity's reporting of its finances.