

Remembrance Sunday Service, Singapore

During the 30-minute ceremony, which will be attended by members of the diplomatic corps, Singapore and foreign military representatives, religious leaders and the public, we will pay tribute to all who laid down their lives so that the generations after them could live in peace.

In the UK, Remembrance Sunday is held on the Sunday nearest to Remembrance Day on 11 November; the date marks the official end of the First World War on 11 November 1918.

All are welcome to join in the annual Service of Remembrance, which will start at 7.30am.

Published 25 October 2019