

Research: Climate adaption reporting fourth round: information and communication technology

Adaptation reports to Defra by the information and communication technology (ICT) sector. Part of the fourth round of the adaptation reporting process under the Climate Change 2008 Act.