

Research: Risk assessment: Brucella canis to Great Britain from any country worldwide

A qualitative risk assessment on the likelihood of Brucella canis incursion into Great Britain from any country worldwide, and the potential for subsequent transmission among susceptible animal populations.