

Revamped ratings to drive better water company performance

New and tighter metrics will give a more rounded view of water company performance and drive improvement.